

Lisa Zauner

CPA | Shareholder

Lisa joined the Perkins & Co audit department in 2008 and has close to two decades of experience in public accounting and one year of experience as a special project consultant for a large international company. Her primary responsibilities include planning and performing audits and reviews for companies in the manufacturing and distribution, retail, insurance and professional services industries along any stage of the business lifecycle. She is also a member of our Technology and Real Estate Practice Groups.

Prior to joining Perkins, Lisa worked at a national accounting firm planning and performing audit services. Lisa's professional background experience in public accounting includes audit and consulting for a variety of clients and entities, including banks and investment companies, emerging businesses, corporations, LLC/partnerships and multi-national organizations.

In addition to her time in public accounting, Lisa has also worked in the internal audit department of an international publicly-traded company, where she spent her time on projects such as fraud investigations and financial forecasting.
